BIG DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST DOCTOR IS OPENED TODAY

The hearing of J. Oswald Lutted's $20,500 damage suit against Dr. George Herbert began before a jury in Circuit Judge Whitney's court this morning. The first witness was Mrs. J. Blythe Brown, a tourist who was stopping at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and was called in to aid in the care of Lutted in 1912, during his trouble with his foot.

Lutted avers that Dr. Herbert was negligent in his care and treatment of the foot, affording the patient no relief, the pain eventually driving Lutted to dismiss the physician and engage another, who amputated the troublesome limb. Mrs. Brown testified that at one time while the case was in his charge Dr. Herbert turned the patient over to Dr. St. D. G. Walters while the former went to the coast for a stay of five or six weeks. She said Dr. Walters visited the patient only a few times, his last call being eight or ten days before Dr. Herbert's return, and that the latter did not visit the patient until about three days after he had come back from the mainland.

In his opening statement to the jury Attorney Frank E. Thompson, for the defense, said he would endeavor to show by expert testimony that the treatment given by Dr. Herbert was considered the only proper treatment, and that had he handled the case otherwise or had amputated the foot he would have been liable for negligence.

MOTHER OF LT. HOFFMAN DIES IN CALIFORNIA

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

FORT SHAFTER, March 30. — The sad news of the death of Mrs. Hoffman, mother of Lieut. Edward L. Hoffman of the 2nd Infantry, was received at the post on Friday of last week. The information was conveyed by letter from Mrs. Herndon Sharp, who went up to the coast by the same transport on which Lieutenant Hoffman and his mother were passengers and gave no details other than that Mrs. Hoffman's death occurred only two days after the arrival of the transport at San Francisco. While it was known at the time of her departure from Fort Shafter that Mrs. Hoffman's condition of health was most critical it was not surmised that the end was so near at hand. Mrs. Hoffman, as the wife of an army officer, had spent many years with the service and had a large circle of friends who will extend to Lieutenant Hoffman their deepest sympathy in his loss. She will be particularly remembered by officers who served in the older days with the 11th Infantry in Arizona and New Mexico, when, as the wife of Captain and later Major William Hoffman of that regiment, her home was one of the centers of post life and hospitality. After her son had received his commission as an officer in the army she came to join him and made her home with him for the remaining years. Lieutenant Hoffman was with his mother at the time of her death having been granted a leave of one month to take her to the states and arrange for a home for her at one of the sanitariums on the Pacific Coast. It is expected that he will return to Fort Shafter by the next transport.

to produce the young woman, Lee Tai.

The petition, filed by Attorney Joseph Lightfoot for Goo Nam Kong was taken out immediately with the writ of service on the accused men. In response Attorneys A. S. Humphreys and C. W. Ashford this morning filed an answer for the respondents, setting forth that the young woman is living voluntarily in the same house with the two men because she does not desire to reside with her husband.

They aver that Ho Tim is her father, and has a wife and two other children living in the same house on Christley lane, in which the girl is alleged to be confined. They also assert Ho Fong is Ho Tim's cousin, that he is a widower and has three children, all residing at the house on Christley lane. They admit Goo Nam Kong is her husband, but deny she is held against her will. Lee Tai is said to be 23 years of age.

RODIN VEILS FACE OF LOVE.

[By Latest Mail]

PARIS, France. — Auguste Rodin, the noted sculptor, who has become a furnisher of stage properties, has evolved a new conception of the goddess of love. A play entitled "Aphrodite" is soon to be produced in a Parisian theater, in which the well known actress, Cora Laparcerie, has the leading role. One of the antique scenic settings requires a statue of Venus, which Rodin consented to model.

This statue is now completed. It is a life-size model of a beautiful nude woman holding a wreath of roses in both hands above her head, but the face is entirely veiled, not one feature being distinguishable. Rodin explains this by saying it is his philosophical conception of love that a lover finds his beloved beautiful, whether her face happens to be pleasing or not.

The modern master veiling love's face thus carries a step farther the belief of the ancients, who merely blindfolded Cupid.

The use of oil will mark a new era in river navigation in Central Africa, as hitherto the use of wood has been a drawback in many ways. Difficulty has been experienced in obtaining the large supply required, and it has been necessary for the steamers to make frequent stops for fuel.

"He bent every effort to make money." "I suppose that is how he became so crooked in his dealings."—Baltimore American.
